BOLTON WANDERERS
LEAGUE DIVISION TWO
SATURDAY, APRIL 17, 1982
KICK-OFF 3.00 p.m.
MATCHDAY MAGAZINE 35p

After the numerous changes that have had to be made to our Second Division fixture list over the second half of the season, we are now able to make a definitive schedule of matches for the weeks ahead.

Next visitors to Leyton Stadium for a Football League match are Cardiff City on Wednesday, April 28, this game kicking off at 8.00 p.m.

Departure from Tuesday as our customary mid-week day for staging home matches is prompted by two factors — the long-standing plans of this club to hold its Player-of-the-Year Dinner on the Monday and the Wales-England senior international being played at Cardiff on the evening of the 27th.

Leicester City's elimination from the FA Cup by Tottenham Hotspur has enabled finalisation of arrangements to play our outstanding game with that club.

This fixture will be played on Tuesday, May 18 at Leyton Stadium with the kick-off once again at 8.00 p.m.

Meanwhile, our next Second Division engagement is at Cambridge on Tuesday when the kick-off is arranged for 7.45 p.m.

All other games take place on the dates originally prescribed for them, and our full fixture list appears in its customary place on page 18 of this Matchday Magazine.

As Queens Park Rangers had accounted for West Bromwich Albion in the semi-final of the FA Cup without need of a replay, our re-arranged visit to Rangers Stadium went ahead as scheduled on Tuesday, April 6.

Eager to regain contact with the Second Division promotion race, Rangers proved one of the most accomplished sides Orient have met for many matches.

Adapting their game well to the requirements of the stadium's playing surface of man-made fibre, Rangers established a 3-0 halftime lead through Bob Hazell, Mike Flanagan and Simon Stainrod.

Orient opted to play with an extra striker in Mark McNeil from halftime onwards and during the second period were much more in contention.

Keith Houchen forced Peter Hucker into alert saves, while in the closing minutes McNeil was also denied a consolation goal for Os when the

BRISBANE RO

Rangers' goalkeeper made a brave save at his feet in a one-against-one situation.

During the 90 minutes the visiting players perhaps found more problems in keeping their feet on the unfamiliar surface, but overall there could be no denying that Rangers were worth their three points.

The next afternoon produced an eventful Football Combination match with Swindon Town Reserves on this ground.

Orient rapidly established a two-goal lead, but suffered an equally early setback in the loss of central defender Jeff Evers.

Evers was found to have a break in a lower leg and will obviously not be available for some weeks to come.

Orient, however, overcame the handicap of having to re-organise and scored their second consecutive Combination victory, this time 4-2 with goals from Jim Hallybone, Henry Hughton, John Margerrison and Jon Bolle.

As a result of Grimsby Town gaining a Good Friday victory over Barnsley, Orient travelled to Cardiff the next day occupying bottom place in the Second Division table.

Although the Welsh club were destined to emerge 2-1 winners — their fourth consecutive home success — there was nothing of a bottom-of-the-table performance from Orient.

Opposition manager Len Ashurst acknowledged that Orient must have been very disappointed not to leave Ninian Park with at least a point. While Orient's Ken Knighton, after having been somewhat critical of the performance at Queens Park Rangers earlier in the week, was understandably even more disappointed, both on his own count and the players'.

Orient's manager felt that it had been his side's best League performance for many weeks and one that, hopefully, they could build and draw upon in the matches to come.

"At last we began to look like a team again," he commented.

This was despite Cardiff enjoying the boost of a fourth minute goal from David Bennett.

Some indication of the pattern this game was to take from then on can be found in a corner-count — eleven to Orient, five to Cardiff.

As that night's South Wales Football Echo put it, "the equaliser, which had begun to seem inevitable, only arrived in the 39th minute...."

Mark McNeil cleverly held possession as support arrived in the Cardiff penalty box. And with the home defence in some disorder, a prod from Keith Houchen looked likely to give him his first goal for the club, only for Colin Foster to arrive and apply the final touch into an empty net.

Cardiff's winner came 17 minutes from the end, and again we will quote the Welsh football press: "The goal came from an unpromising beginning, Henderson handling the ball near the touch line on the left before sending Micallef away.

"Ignoring Orient appeals for a free kick, the Wales Under-21 striker rounded Foster neatly before delivering a perfect cross for Kitchen to head home from four yards."

That former Orient striker Peter Kitchen was the scorer also had its elements of cruel irony for the visitors. Particularly, of course, those who recall that it was a goal from this player at Ninian Park in May, 1978 that ensured this club's escape from relegation....

The importance of the first of two impending meetings with Cambridge United, that at Leyton Stadium on Easter Monday, became even greater to Orient following the defeat at Cardiff.

In the event, a somewhat dour match produced a goal-less draw, the quality of play often being dictated by a gusting wind.

Cambridge probably had a first-half edge, while when Orient subsequently had the wind at their backs it came close to being total one-way traffic.

Even so, there was a major scare for Os some 12 minutes from the end when in Cambridge's only serious attack of the second period George Reilly drove the ball into Orient's net at the second attempt.

Only after lengthy consultation with a linesman did Hampshire referee John Martin disallow the goal for offside and Orient breathed again.

It was not the happiest of Bank Holidays for Reilly, incidentally, in that he later left the ground with an arm in a sling after taking a knock.

From Orient's point of view, the intervention of a linesman perhaps represented early "atonement" for the handling offence that went unpunished and proved so costly at Ninian Park two days earlier...

That Cambridge were equally conscious of the need to gain points could probably be found in the statistic that this was a game which produced no less than 54 free kicks, 34 of them in favour of the home team.

Followers of our youth team are asked to note that three remaining home South East Counties League matches with Charlton Athletic and Gillingham will be staged at Ive Farm and not Nutter Lane.

All at Orient extend their condolences to Charles and Wyn Osborne following the recent sad loss of their son Robert.

Aged 23, Robert had been a victim of muscular dystrophy since birth, but had followed Os since season 1974-75, both as a patron of the Bowater-Scott enclosure at Leyton Stadium and at the more local away games. His home was at Arcadia Road, Leytonstone.

He will be much missed among our loyal band of disabled supporters.

After our lengthy run of Second Division matches without a victory I can fully understand the sense of disappointment our supporters must be feeling.

Bottom of the table we may be at the time of this Matchday Magazine going to press, but we do have until Tuesday, May 18 to extricate ourselves from the position we are in.

That is to say we are still a Second Division club until such time as the League table decrees otherwise, and everyone here at Orient will be fighting tooth and nail to preserve that status.

One hundred per cent commitment is what I will be seeking from the players, and I earnestly hope that supporters will stand by us and back us in our efforts.

From a personal point of view, having been only too ready to accept the plaudits when I was named Manager of the Month for January, I must now be prepared to accept some of the criticisms that have inevitably accompanied our recent run of adverse results.

We did, of course, have four particularly difficult away games in succession during that time, and a 0-0 draw with Cambridge United on Bank Holiday Monday on this ground was, needless to say, rather less than we hoped for.

That, of course, is all in the past and there remain nine Second Division matches to play.

Our fate is in our own hands — we cannot rely upon other clubs to achieve favourable results for us — and what will be the decisive stage of the season for us begins this afternoon when, if I may say so, it will be somewhat refreshing to play a Saturday match here at Leyton Stadium.

Our earlier meeting with Bolton Wanderers in Lancashire was not one that we looked back upon with any sense of satisfaction at the time, so I am sure it would be agreeable to our players to make amends for that performance, albeit somewhat belatedly.

Last weekend at Cardiff I was particularly disappointed for our players in their 2-1 defeat, since I felt it was their best performance for many weeks. For much of that match we really were looking like a team.

I carefully restricted my own comments on that game at the time, as I did not wish to give the impression I was offering excuses for Orient's defeat.

There will be no excuses from me when we are defeated. This I am sure I made clear when four days earlier we were beaten 3-0 at Queens Park Rangers and, to my way of thinking, our performance left much to be desired.

Queens Park Rangers were certainly the best opponents we had encountered for many matches, so perhaps in our present situation we can regard it as a plus that they are among the clubs we do not have to meet a second time during what remains of the season.

Both Cardiff and Cambridge do, of course, come into that category and our approach to today's and the remaining fixtures must be that six points from any two games could considerably alter our prospects.

Cardiff will surely respect us when they visit us, while anyone who saw the Cambridge game will probably go along with the view that we did enough in the second half to have earned full points on that occasion.

In short, there are still 27 points at stake for us. Your continuing support will never be more valuable than during the nine games that still face us.

Bolton Wanderers enhanced their prospects of avoiding relegation when they gained a 2-0 victory in Monday's local derby at Blackburn.

Today's visit to Leyton Stadium brings them to a venue at which they have drawn on their past four appearances. Last season, it will be recalled, they pulled back a 2-0 deficit to earn what was still an important point to them when we staged our final fixture on a Sunday morning.

Since then Wanderers have come by a new manager in George Mulhall and in November gained a 1-0 victory over Orient at Burnden Park. Clearly they will be eager to take a further step towards safety this afternoon.

Our opponents' record in Second Division matches on opponents' grounds this season is:

Won 2-0 at Blackburn, 2-0 at Derby, 1-0 at Sheffield Wednesday.

Drew 1-1 at Grimsby, 0-0 at Norwich, 1-1 at Oldham.

Lost 0-3 at Barnsley, 1-2 at Cambridge, 1-2 at Cardiff, 0-2 at Chelsea, 0-1 at Crystal Palace, 0-1 at Leicester, 0-2 at Luton, 0-2 at Newcastle, 0-2 at Rotherham, 0-2 at Shrewsbury, 0-3 at Watford, 1-2 at Wrexham.

Bolton's 32 Second Division goals this season have been credited as follows:

Henry 10, Thompson 10, Foster 2, Gowling, McElhinney, Thomas, Reid, Cantello, Kidd, Hoggan, Carter, Chandler, Jones (pen.).

JIM McDONAGH (Goalkeeper) In his second spell with Bolton. Rejoined Wanderers last summer from Everton after a season at Goodison Park. This former Rotherham 'keeper was a member of Bolton's Second Division championship winning side in 1978. Republic of Ireland international.

DENNIS PEACOCK (Goalkeeper) Joined Wanderers from Doncaster in March, 1980. Born in Lincoln. Had a spell with Nottingham Forest. Stands 6ft. 3ins.

GERRY McELHINNEY (Defender) Signed from Distillery at the beginning of last season. A former Gaelic footballer and amateur boxer who made his debut for Wanderers soon after signing.

PETER NICHOLSON (Defender) Signed for Wanderers from Blackpool for a small fee prior to the 1971-72 season and has proved a fantastic bargain. Can play in defence or mid-field.

PAUL JONES (Defender) Has been a member of the under-23 and full England squads. Has a habit of scoring vital goals. Born Ellesmere Port.

PETER REID (Midfield) Joined Bolton from school on Merseyside. Was a regular member of the England under-21 side which he also skippered. A severe knee injury put him out of action for the second half of season 1978-79 and the first half of the 1979-80 season, but recovered to win back a regular place.

LEN CANTELLO (Midfield) Born Newton Heath. Cost Wanderers record £350,000 fee paid to West Bromwich Albion in June, 1979, after over 300 first team games for them.

MIKE DOYLE (Defender) Veteran former Manchester City and England defender who joined Wanderers in January from Stoke City for a nominal fee. Doyle made a dramatic start to his Bolton days conceding an own goal on his debut and being sent off in his second game, but he has brought a steadying influence to the Bolton line-up and his composure has been a tremendous asset.

TONY HENRY (Mid-Field) Signed for £125,000 from Manchester City. One of the unsung heroes of Manchester City's revival last season. Came on as substitute in FA Cup Final in May.

WAYNE FOSTER (Forward) Former local school-boy who came on to the League scene earlier this season. Gained his first England youth cap in Scotland in a European Championship qualifier.

ALAN GOWLING (Forward) Signed for a £120,000 fee from Newcastle United three seasons ago after four years at St. James' Park. Started career with Manchester United and then moved to Huddersfield. Chairman of the Professional Footballers' Association.

JOHN THOMAS (Forward) Signed for Wanderers on a free transfer from Everton in June, 1980 on the recommendation of his former team-mate Brian Kidd.

CHRIS THOMSON (Forward) Joined Wanderers from school as an apprentice and signed full professional forms in July, 1977. Has represented England at youth level.

MIKE CARTER (Forward) Born Warrington. Had a spell on loan with Mansfield in 1978-79 season, making 18 League appearances and scoring four goals. League debut for Wanderers against Bristol City in December, 1979. Scored his first League goal later that month against Everton after coming on as substitute.

MIKE BENNETT (Defender) Bolton born member of the England youth squad which won the 1980 European Championships in East Germany. Can play in midfield.

DAVID HOGGAN (Midfield) Joined Bolton from Tynecastle Boys Club, Edinburgh, as an apprentice in November, 1977 and signed full professional forms in August, 1979. League debut in the First Division at Bristol City in April, 1980. International recognition with the Scottish under-21 squad last season.

IAN BRENNAN (Defender) A bargain £25,000 buy when he signed from Burnley last season. Can play in midfield or in the centre of defence. Made more than 190 League appearances for former club.

STEVE WHITWORTH (Defender) Joined Bolton for a bargain £25,000 from Sunderland in October. Experienced full-back with well over 400 League appearances behind him. Earned seven England caps in his Leicester City days.

JEFF CHANDLER (Forward) Cost Wanderers a modest £40,000 when he signed from Leeds United in October. Hammersmith born, he began his League career with Blackpool and has won international recognition with the Republic of Ireland.

LEYTON STADIUM FLASHBACK

FIVE YEARS AGO

Orient are beaten 2-0 at Leyton Stadium by Sheffield United on Saturday, April 16, 1977.

Former Orient Colt Keith Edwards is a member of the United attack for this game.

Three days later Os make some amends in their quest for points to escape relegation with a 1-1 draw at Hull City.

Glenn Roeder is Orient's points winner with a late equaliser.

Billy Hurley is given his senior debut in this match.

He is the third teenager to make his Football League debut for the club during the closing stages of the season. Terry Glynn and John Chiedozie have previously been given their chances.

TEN YEARS AGO

A 1-0 victory over Watford at Leyton Stadium means that Orient are safe from relegation that has threatened all season.

The club's fate has remained in doubt until the third weekend of April following away defeats by 0-1 and 1-3 margins at Cardiff and Sheffield Wednesday respectively.

Scorer of the all-important goal against Watford is Ian Bowyer with his 14th of the season in Second Division matches.

Billy Jennings, later to become an Orient player after service with West Ham United, is a member of the Watford side who are already destined to be relegated.

Close season plans include the installation of new floodlights at Leyton Stadium and the establishment of a training centre at Springfield Park, Clapton.

ORIENT MASCOT

Orient mascot this afternoon is Alan Wordley from Woodfield Park Drive, Leigh-on-Sea, Essex. Alan is 14, attends Belfairs High School, Southend, and his interests are rugby, swimming, badminton and breeding finches. His favourite Orient players are Mervyn Day and Ian Moores.

CARDIFF CITY, the next visitors to Leyton Stadium on Wednesday week, will hope to come to London as Welsh Cup finalists with the prospects of European involvement next season.

City shared a 0-0 draw at Hereford in the first leg of the semi-final and will be confident of earning their final place when the return takes place at Ninian Park on Monday.

The semi-final at Hereford was not without its controversy. For the Welsh FA ruled that Jimmy Mullen, who has joined City on loan from ROTHERHAM UNITED, was not eligible as he had joined the club on a loan basis.

Cardiff are contesting the matter.

Cardiff go into the closing stages of the Second Division programme with three reinforcements in their side. Namely, Mullen, Mick Henderson a free transfer capture from WATFORD, and Andy Polycarpou, a similar arrival from CAMBRIDGE UNITED.

Polycarpou, who made his League debut for City against Orient on Easter Saturday, has previously been with Millwall and Southend.

Innovation on the season ticket front at OLDHAM is the introduction of eight-year tickets!

Apparently you can assure yourself of a main stand seat at Boundary Park for such a period for a sum of £500, while an eight-year-season ticket in a VIP box comes at £1,400.

There have been takers and Latics' management now plan to introduce similar long-term concessions for standing enclosures at £250 and £300.

Not only are you admitted to the ground for matches under the scheme, but season ticket holders will actually pick up annual interest on their investment.

It is an idea that obviously could catch on.

At SHEFFIELD WEDNESDAY they have experienced some particularly heavy playing surfaces during the past winter.

Investigations of the Hillsborough playing area suggests that the troubles can be traced back to the World Cup of 1966!

With virtually no close season that summer, Wednesday's pitch did not receive the attentions it should have done, and 16 years later the evidence is there to be seen, it seems.

This afternoon's ORIENT-BOLTON and DERBY-NORWICH fixtures have an odd common factor about them. Namely: Wanderers have drawn on their past four appearances at Leyton Stadium. Norwich have similarly finished up all square on the last four occasions they have played at the Baseball Ground.

Not to be overlooked during the week that QUEENS PARK RANGERS assured themselves of a first-ever appearance in an FA Cup Final: their reserves and youth sides topped the Football Combination and South East Counties League tables respectively.

Rangers' artificial pitch, incidentally, will be the scene of the Women's Football Association Cup Final on Saturday, May 1. It will be staged as a curtain raiser to Rangers' home game with BOLTON WANDERERS.

Second Division leading scorers (League games only):

 - 16 Ian Banks (Barnsley), Steve White (Luton), Imre Varadi (Newcastle), Ronnie Moores (Rotherham).

O'S SUPPORTERS CLUB

THE D.D.COLUMN

Tonight at the Supporter's Club some of our members will be wallowing in a little nostalgia as we reunite some of the favourite Os' players of the 1950's era.

The names of Bishop, Aldous, Charlton, Rees, Groves, Blizzard and others from that particular chapter in the club's history are still so often fondly recalled in Supporters' Club chatter — sometimes even from those too young to have seen them play for the O's and who only know of such players through the legend they created during their respective Orient careers.

As much as we recall these personalities they in turn still retain their own respect and affection for the Orient, as is demonstrated in the eagerness with which they accept our invitations to attend these reunions and the long distances that many of them travel to return to Leyton — in the case of Billy Rees all the way from Wales.

No doubt many yarns will be exchanged tonight — much to the delight of the supporters present, for it is always most fascinating to listen to former players recall tales and experiences of the 'old days' and also to discover their thoughts on the present day game.

Our congratulations to Cindy Wheeler from Wanstead who was recently elected Miss Orient 1982. Cindy takes over the title from Lucinda Snow whom we would like to thank for fulfilling her duties so well during her 'reign'.

Our thanks also to two local businessmen for sponsoring this year's cash prizes in the competition — 1st prize sponsored by Mr. George Yeoman, of the Atlanta Fish Bar, Leyton High Road; runner-up prize sponsored by Mr. Eric Collins, Newsagent, Leyton High Road.

Thank you gentlemen.

We also offer congratulations today to Andy Morrell who was voted Orient supporters F.C. Player of the Year for 1982 — the second consecutive year Andy has won the title.

The 'B' team Sportsman's Trophy was shared this season by David Lynch and Ian Chamberlain.

All players received their awards from Orient's assistant manager Frank Clark at a recent presentation disco at the Supporters' Club. Well done lads!

Finally today, a date for your diary. On Saturday, May 15 we are presenting an End-of-Season Party and fun night. There will be competitions, some fancy dress and a cabaret spot featuring local singer Terry Johnston who will be accompanied by the Graham West Trio. Tickets will be available soon.

can come from behind the goal, or in front; maybe from the side-lines or from high up in the stands.

Ultimately, of course, capturing the action rests with the camera-man.

Our Matchday Magazine has over the past two seasons become photographically alert through the lenses of George Flower.

Photography is really his hobby. But through thick and thin times he is also an Orient fan.

Yet up until some 24 years ago he followed Millwall.

Then the transfers of Johnny Hartburn and Stan Morgan from The den to Brisbane Road prompted him to switch his allegiance to the Os.

During his normal working day he is a man of figures in an accounts department. So it figures that his eye is well in.

He lives locally with his wife Mavis and two children, Robin who is 18, and Michelle, 15.

He is personally a great admirer of teams ready to attack and get players into the opposition penalty box, and also outspoken on the subjects of dirty play and crowd violence. Here he feels the media tends to make too much of the less happy side of soccer and ignores the better aspects in the process.

His favourite away ground is Hillsborough, the home of Sheffield Wednesday.

He offers a special personal salute to the regular away fans with whom he travels, and urges all the club's followers to get behind the side during the games ahead.

JOLLY GOOD LUCK. J.J.

ORIENT IN R

NEIL KAUFMAN, of the S.V.P. Information Group of South Africa and Orient F.C. historian, looks back at the career of the club's former skipper STAN ALDOUS.

Stan Aldous was born in Northfleet, Kent. He was one of five footballing brothers and was captain of the Os in some of their greatest triumphs.

Under his leadership Orient reached the sixth round of the FA Cup, finished runners-up in the Third Division (South) in 1955 and a year later gained promotion and carried off the championship shield.

As an eleven year old he had played in the same schoolboy side as Ted Ditchburn, who was to become England's goalkeeper while with Spurs.

He subsequently played for Erith and Belvedere, but established a reputation for himself in amateur soccer while with Bromley — the club that produced another famous Os skipper in Stan Charlton.

After the war Stan became a part-timer with Gravesend and Northfleet and played in the Southern League alongside Les Gore, who was later to become an eminent back-room figure at Leyton Stadium.

Stan joined Orient as a professional almost by accident. For Gravesend failed to register him for a new season, and at the age of 25 he became a free agent and turned full professional with his only football League club.

Stan, who nowadays sports a distinguished white beard, told me of his fond feelings towards the Orient:

"I suppose the most exciting time was when we won promotion from the Third to the Second Division.

"During those five years under Alec Stock and Leslie Gore we tasted the thrill of meeting such clubs as Everton, Birmingham, Chelsea and Arsenal in exciting FA Cup ties.

"In particular, I remember losing to Port Vale in the sixth round and so missed out on a semi-final appearance. It was a memorable game at Brisbane Road in front of a record 31,000 all-ticket crowd.

"We dominated the match yet lost by a single goal. That was the most disappointing moment of my career.

"There was genuine friendship within the club from chairman Harry Zussman right down to the boy who cleaned the boots.

RETROSPECT

"Yet much of the credit for what we achieved had to go to the undaunting spirit of our supporters. How they boosted our morale, game after game. It was worth many points to the side.

"Proof of their support was reflected in the article you wrote last year, Neil, when you said that the average gate when we won the Third Division was in excess of 17,000. Not bad, eh?

"Yes, I am proud to have been associated with the Os during the 1950s when I feel we shook off the tag of being a music hall joke and took on a rightful place in the Second Division."

During nine years with Orient Stan Aldous was a fine servant and made 302 League appearances, scoring three goals, as a hard-tackling centre half.

He afterwards moved on to Headington United — now Oxford United — to join the Southern League's coaching staff and was later with Queens Park Rangers for a spell in a similar capacity.

He added: "I am still in the entertainment business, although much more of a mellow nature as I now own the Royal Bingo and Social Club in Littleport, Cambridgeshire.

"Please pass on my regards to everyone at the Orient. If any of you are passing through Littleport, drop in for a game and a chat.

"You never know you may win a fortune!".

THE STRUGGLE TO STAY UP

Before the days of three points for a victory a club putting together a good run of results over the Easter period might have been tempted to look upon themselves as safe from the threat of relegation, assuming that they have not had a totally disastrous season up to that stage, of course.

The new points tariff, however, hardly makes for complacency among clubs seemingly comfortably placed midway up the table.

For some, relegation does remain more of a threat than for others, whatever the rewards on offer. So we have set out here the remaining fixture commitments of the clubs seemingly most under threat as the Second Division entered the Easter phase of what is its ninth season of "three up and three down".

At this stage the clubs are listed in strictly alphabetical sequence!
